“ Paul was the most incredible father in law I could have ever had. He welcomed me into the family from the very beginning and always treated me as his own daughter. He was always there to lend a hand and help in any way he could. Always happy, joyful and kind. I miss his laugh that would be so obnoxious you couldn't help but belly laugh because of it. I miss him teaching the kids new things and just chatting about his life through the years.

We never expected him to move out here to Alabama with us. He decided that on his own. When we told him we were leaving he said "well, guess I'm going too. You're not taking my grandbabies that far away with out me."

He sold his house and packed up his belongings and moved out here and brought a piece of home that we desperately needed. I'm so grateful for his sacrifice and his love for his family. He really did bring so much love and joy into this house that we all needed and it does feel so empty now, a piece is surely missing. I'm grateful for the fatherly love he gave me and the wisdom he passed to all of us. I'm so proud of the son he raised and loved so dearly who has become the best father and husband. He raised his boys right and loved all of us fiercely. He will be beyond missed, remembered forever and always loved.

“ Paul took bunch of us misfits in. Let us pretend to run the shop have our markers on the wall and then almost sell them to new customers. Saying "you left it here. I have no idea".
The shop and field were the places to be. Nights going over how to do things in paintball.

“ Praying for the family during their hour of bereavement, keep looking to the hills from whence cometh your help and know that your help cometh from the lord.
