One of my first outtings was your home when I got back. You gave me my first pep talk whether you know it or not. I listened to you intently. You were not ashamed to share your past with me and it made me feel comfortable. For that I thank you because this struggle is real. Thank you again sweetie for taking the time out to converse with me. Your words were well received. Rest in His arms my dear, your job here on earth is completed. ❤️🙏
